WEATHER

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION:

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA AND CENTRAL COASTAL AREAS:

Eureka Weather:

A slight chance of thunderstorms is possible this afternoon and evening over Trinity County as a trough drops south through the area. Temperatures over the interior will remain slightly above normal while the coast will continue to see low clouds most nights and mornings with temperatures closer to normal.

San Francisco Weather:

An upper level low over central California will keep temperatures across the region at or slightly below seasonal averages today. A slow warming trend will resume for the latter half of the week along with ongoing dry weather as high pressure builds over the eastern pacific.

CENTRAL CALIFORNIA AND SOUTHERN SAN JOAQUIN VALLEY Sacramento Weather:

A weak low pressure system will linger along the west coast through mid-week. Daytime highs will remain above normal. There will be a slight chance of thunderstorms over the mountains through mid-week.

Hanford Weather:

Breezy conditions and slightly cooler temperatures are expected through mid-week as a weak trough of low pressure will impact the region. A ridge of high pressure will then bring a warming trend to the area by late this week and continue into the weekend.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA:

Los Angeles Weather:

Moderate onshore flow will keep temperatures mild along the coastal sections over the next few days while the interior region continues to be warm. There will continue to be night through morning low clouds across coastal areas especially the central coast with more random patchy low clouds across coast and coastal valleys of Los Angeles and Ventura counties through this week. High pressure will build over the region this weekend causing a more significant warm up across the valleys and interior portions of the forecast area.

Extreme Southwestern California Including Orange, San Diego, Western Riverside and Southwestern San Bernardino Counties:

A weak trough of low pressure near the west coast will maintain seasonal onshore flow into next week. Coastal areas will remain cooler with areas of night and morning low clouds and fog. Warmer and very dry for inland areas with gusty west winds in the mountains and deserts each late afternoon through late evening each day. A slightly deeper marine layer is possible on Friday with a little warmer weather possible for the weekend into early next week.

Southeast California Weather:

Winds should favor typical diurnal trends through tonight with afternoon and evening gusts to 15-25 knots mainly in the Owens Valley. Scattered clouds at or above 25k feet should decrease by this afternoon. A few clouds at or above 15k feet are forecasted over the higher terrain of Inyo County this afternoon and early evening.

Cal EOC Incident - 2014 Drought

Situational Summary

On January 17, 2014 Governor Edmund G. Brown proclaimed a State of Emergency and directed state officials to take all necessary actions to prepare for drought conditions. The State Operation Center (SOC) is activated to implement objectives in support of the Governor's priorities. The lack of winter rain and snowfall has resulted in extremely dry conditions in many parts of the State. Reservoir levels are down significantly from where they should be on average for this time of year. If conditions continue without substantial rainfall, severe impacts to municipal water supplies, agriculture (plants and livestock) and firefighting capabilities are likely in store for the State over the next few months. Negative economic impacts will also result.

On April 25, 2014 Governor Brown released an Executive Order on Friday enabling several urgent actions to be taken as the drought persists into the state's traditional dry season.

 As this rainy season comes to an end, it is highly unlikely that precipitation totals will increase significantly over the coming months. This winter's below average rain and snowfall worsens conditions in this third straight dry year.

- The Taskforce continues to meet regularly to take actions that conserve water and coordinate state response to the drought.
- The final manual snowpack survey of the season was conducted on Thursday (May 1) and showed California snowpack at 18% of normal. A more recent update using automated devices shows snowpack at 3% of normal as of May 30.
- DWR has announced that water essential for health and safety will be delivered through the state water project. The current State Water Project Allocation is 5%.
- Cal OES continues to gather drought-related costs from state agencies and local governments.
